HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR SOUTH AFRICA

TRANSMITTING

Draft Letters Patent providing for the constitution of Responsible Government in the Colony of Southern Rhodesia, and other draft Instruments connected therewith.

SOUTH AFRICA.
SOUTHERN RHODESIA.

DOWNING STREET,
22nd December, 1921.

SIR,

I have the honour to transmit to Your Royal Highness copies of the following draft Instruments :—

- (a) Draft Order in Council annexing the Territory of Southern Rhodesia.
- (b) Draft Letters Patent providing for the constitution of Responsible Government in the Colony of Southern Rhodesia.
- (c) Draft Letters Patent constituting the office of Governor.
- (d) Draft Instructions to the Governor.

2. These drafts are in the form in which I have determined them after hearing the views of the Delegation of Elected Members, and of the British South Africa Company.

3. Drafts (c) and (d) are adapted from the forms used in granting responsible government to the Transvaal in 1906, and do not, I think, call for any explanation. Draft (a) and the main draft (b) are based on the recommendations contained in the first report* of Lord Buxton's Committee. The origin of the various clauses of draft (b) is shown in the marginal references; I need, therefore, only refer to such points as require special comment.

4. Clause 1 relating to the future Legislature has been drafted so as to enable the Legislative Council now subsisting to function, if required, during the short period between the coming into force of the Letters Patent, as provided in Clause 63, and the date of nomination of candidates for the first elections to the new Legislative Assembly. This period could not be more than about five months, since the first session must be held within six months of the commencement of the Letters Patent (Clause 16 (2)). The Legislature would be, in the first place, unicameral, as proposed by Lord Buxton's Committee, but Clause 2 provides for the future constitution of a second Chamber.

* [Cmd. 1273.]

5. Clause 6 applies the existing electoral laws generally, subject to such amendments as might in the future be made by the Legislature. In the course of the discussion with the Delegation a suggestion was made that provision should be made for a system of proportional representation, but I have not felt able to introduce an electoral change of this importance into the Letters Patent. The matter is one which could, of course, be dealt with by the new Legislature.

6. The question has been considered in connection with Clause 8 whether provision should not be made for the automatic redivision of the Colony into electoral divisions at stated periods, as was done in the Transvaal Letters Patent of 1906. There is much to be said for this proposal, but the question is one which I would in the circumstances rather leave to the new Administration. I have, therefore, thought it preferable not to provide for this in the Letters Patent.

7. Under Section 28, relating to the class of Bills to be reserved, it will be seen that the Governor will be required to reserve any law altering or amending the arrangements relating to the collection and allocation of mining revenue in force at the commencement of the Letters Patent under any existing law or otherwise or any law imposing any special rate, tax, or duty, on minerals in or under land within the Colony. In making this provision it is not intended to suggest that the Company's mineral rights would not be fairly treated by the new Administration. His Majesty's Government feel, however, that the position of the British South Africa Company in regard to the minerals is in two respects special. First, there is the pronouncement of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council as to the connection between the existence of these mineral rights and the absence of any provision for the remuneration of the Company for its administrative services, and secondly, there is the arrangement as to the allocation of mining revenue adopted by Lord Cave's Commission, as set out in the despatch of the 17th March, 1921, printed at p. 20 of [Cmd. 1273]. These considerations have led me to insert clause 28 (d) in the draft.

8. Clause 28 (e) deals with a matter which has required and has received my most careful consideration, namely, the position of the existing railways in relation to the general powers of legislation conferred by the Letters Patent.

I have no reason to anticipate, and I fully accept the assurance which I have received from the Delegation on this head, that these powers would be exercised in any spirit but that of complete goodwill towards enterprises which have contributed in so large a measure to the development of Rhodesia, and now play so important a part in the scheme of Imperial communications. But I have been deeply impressed by two features of the situation:—first, the magnitude of the investment made by the British South Africa Company in the railways, and the very heavy burden of financial obligation assumed by the British South Africa Company in the guarantees which they have given to the Debenture holders; and secondly, the absence of anything like a code of railway legislation, determining the relative rights of the railway proprietors and the general community. If such legislation had existed, the claim of the British South Africa Company to the recognition of its special position in relation to the railways might well have been left to the general powers of protection conferred upon the Imperial authorities by the Letters Patent. The new Legislature should not, I think, find it difficult to frame suitable legislation having regard to the experience of this country in dealing with private Railway Companies and to the assistance which they would derive from a study of the legislation in force here, and after careful consideration of all the circumstances I have come to the conclusion that the requirements of the case would be met by providing for the reservation of any law dealing with railways in the Colony, until legislation shall have come into force in Southern Rhodesia adopting so far as may be applicable the provisions of the law in force in the United Kingdom relating to the Railway and Canal Commissioners and to the Rates Tribunal provided for by the Railways Act, 1921.

This course, whilst not affecting the general right of the new Colony to legislate in connection with railways, in the interests of law, order, and good government, would afford the Company the same measure of protection to its railway rights as exists in similar cases in the United Kingdom.

9. In connection with Clause 38, I may observe that I am advised that no special provision is necessary to preserve the present system of appeals from the High Court of Southern Rhodesia to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of South Africa, since this matter is dealt with in Section 103 of the South Africa Act, 1909. It may be noted, however, that there would be nothing to prevent the new Administration legislating under a particular Act for direct appeal from the High Court to the Privy Council in a new class of civil cases in which under the law in force at the establishment of the Union there was no appeal to the Supreme Court of the Cape.

10. The Clauses relating to Native Administration (39-47) are designed to preserve the essential features of the existing system of native administration which has worked satisfactorily in the past. Provision has also been made for the possible future establishment of Native Councils in the Reserves on the lines of the recent Union Act 23 of 1920. In connection with Clause 43, the Rhodesian Delegation suggested that specified districts should be set aside by the High Commissioner in which natives alone might acquire land and within which Europeans should not be allowed to do so. I have informed the delegates that the existing clause enshrines a long accepted principle and that I should be unwilling to agree to an alteration, the corollary of which seems to be the exclusion of natives from other areas; but that if full and impartial enquiry should show, after responsible government had come into force, that some amendment of the law is necessary, His Majesty's Government would be prepared to consider an amendment.

11. Clause 48 deals with the unalienated lands and provides for the appointment of a Crown Land Agent (assisted by an Advisory Board), who is empowered to dispose of the lands at such prices as may in all the circumstances be in his opinion fair and reasonable, the revenue derived therefrom being paid to the British South Africa Company so long as any part of the debt due to the Company on account of the administrative deficit remains unpaid. The Clause has been drawn in this form since the British South Africa Company objected to the proposal made by Lord Buxton's Committee for the establishment of a Land Board. The Company maintain, indeed, that the Clause is inconsistent with their rights under the Privy Council judgment, but this view is regarded by the Legal Advisers of the Crown as without foundation.

12. Clause 51 states that in the event of any moneys being provided by the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury for the payment of compensation to the British South Africa Company in respect of any buildings and works which may be taken over in accordance with provisions of Article 33 of the Company's Charter, the Consolidated Revenue Fund would be charged with all such moneys together with interest at a rate to be fixed by the Treasury, and all such moneys and interest should be repaid not later than one year after the commencement of the Letters Patent. As was explained in Lord Milner's memorandum of December, 1920,* it is considered that this is an obligation which must clearly devolve upon the new Administration, who will also, of course, have to repay any of the annual loans of £150,000 which His Majesty's Government may advance pending the grant of responsible government. I am advised that in the case of the movable assets, which are also referred to in Lord Milner's memorandum, the property in these will pass to the Crown on the termination of the Company's administration, without the necessity for any payment in cash, the cost being included in the administrative deficits. Similarly, as regards debtor balances and creditor balances, these will be added to or deducted from the administrative deficits. I shall no doubt have to address you further on this subject in due course.

13. Clauses 56 and 57 deal with the position and pension rights of the public officers of the territory. In framing these clauses I have given careful consideration to the representations made on behalf of the Southern Rhodesian Civil Service and the Police, and I am confident that the clauses should adequately secure the rights of public servants.

14. The only other matter I need refer to is the question which has been raised whether, in the event of the grant of responsible government to Southern Rhodesia, certain other territories should be admitted, viz., the railway strip in Northern Rhodesia and the Tati district in the Bechuanaland Protectorate. I am advised, however, that these territories could, if it is found desirable, be added to Southern Rhodesia after annexation, under the Colonial Boundaries Act, and no special provision in the Letters Patent is necessary.

15. These Letters Patent, if finally adopted, would, in the view of His Majesty's Government, confer on the people of Southern Rhodesia a full and satisfactory control of their government and administration subject only to the reservations which the peculiar history of the country imposes. They embody a policy which, if the people of Southern Rhodesia should decide ultimately to adopt it, His Majesty's

* Appendix II in [Cmd. 1273.]

Government would be ready to carry out. There is, however, an alternative policy—that of entry into the South African Union, which the people of Southern Rhodesia must also consider, and since the South Africa Act has not defined the conditions of entry it is my intention that a delegation should be appointed to confer with General Smuts for the purpose of ascertaining the exact terms on which Southern Rhodesia could enter the Union. When these terms have been ascertained, and a sufficient time has elapsed for consideration and public discussion on these alternative policies, it is my view that the people of Southern Rhodesia should declare their opinion by means of a Referendum which would place both policies before them. The precise form of the Referendum need not be determined at this stage.

16. You should cause this despatch and the enclosures to be published in such form as may seem to you to be most convenient.

I have, etc.,

WINSTON S. CHURCHILL.

HIGH COMMISSIONER

MAJOR-GENERAL HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS

PRINCE ARTHUR OF CONNAUGHT,

(2) Provided that any person authorized by law to make a solemn affirmation or declaration instead of taking an oath, may make such affirmation or declaration in lieu of such oath. (T. 28. N. 27.)

21. Questions to be decided by majority of votes. Subject to the provisions contained in Section 26 of these Our Letters Patent, all questions in the Legislative Council or Legislative Assembly shall be determined by a majority of the votes of Members present, other than the President, Speaker, or presiding Member, who shall, however, have and exercise a casting vote in case of an equality of votes. (T. 29 as modified in M. 28. N. 31.)

22. Member's seat in Legislature, how vacated. If any Member of the Legislative Council or Legislative Assembly (T. 30 as modified in M. 32. N. 32 and 38)—

- (1) Shall be absent, except on the ground of illness, from the sittings of the Legislative Council or the Legislative Assembly, as the case may be, for a period of one month during any session without the leave of the Legislative Council or the Legislative Assembly, as the case may be ; or
- (2) Shall have any direct or indirect pecuniary interest in any contract with the Government of the Colony for or on account of the public service otherwise than as a member and in common with the other members of an incorporated company consisting of more than twenty-five persons (N. 33. M. 32 (2)) ; or

- (5) Shall become an insolvent or take advantage of any Law for the relief of insolvent debtors; or
- (6) Shall be attainted of treason, or be sentenced to imprisonment without the option of a fine for a term of not less than twelve months; or
- (7) Shall become of unsound mind; or
- (8) Shall accept any office of profit under the Crown other than that of a Minister, or that of an officer of Our naval and military forces on retired or half-pay;

his seat shall become vacant, and if any person under any of the disqualifications herein mentioned shall, whilst so disqualified, knowingly sit or vote as a Member of the said Council or Assembly, such person shall forfeit the sum of one hundred pounds, to be recovered by the Attorney-General for the benefit of the Treasury by action in the High Court:

Saving of pensioners.—Provided that a person in receipt of pension from the Crown shall not be deemed to hold an office of profit under the Crown within the meaning of this section.

23. Standing Rules and Orders.—(1) The Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly in their first Session, and from time to time afterwards as there shall be occasion, shall each adopt Standing Rules and Orders, joint as well as otherwise, for the regulation and orderly conduct of their proceedings and the despatch of business, and for the order in which the said Council and Assembly shall confer, correspond, and communicate with each other, and for the passing, intituling, and numbering of Bills, and for the presentation of the same to the Governor for Our assent.

(2) All such Rules and Orders shall by the said Council and Assembly respectively be laid before the Governor in Council, and being by him approved shall become binding and of force:

(3) Provided that the Standing Rules and Orders of the Legislative Council as now subsisting shall, until altered, added to, or amended, be the Standing Rules and Orders of the Legislative Council and of the Legislative Assembly. (T. 31. N. 39.)

24. Officers of Legislature.—The salary of the President of the Legislative Council and of the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly shall be such as may be prescribed by any Law of the Colony; and the Chief Clerk for the time being of the Legislative Council and of the Legislative Assembly shall respectively be removable from office only in accordance with a vote of the House of which he is an officer. (T. 32. N. 40.)

25. Privileges, &c., of Members.—(1) It shall be lawful for the Legislature of the Colony by any Law to define the privileges, immunities, and powers to be held, enjoyed, and exercised by the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly, and by the Members thereof respectively:

Provided that no such privileges, immunities, or powers shall exceed those for the time being held, enjoyed, and exercised by the Commons House of Parliament of Our United Kingdom, or the Members thereof. (T. 33. N. 42.)

(2) Until the Legislature shall so define the privileges, immunities, and powers of its Members those which are now held, enjoyed, and exercised by the Members of the subsisting Legislative Council shall be held, enjoyed and exercised by the Members of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly. (M. 39 (2).)

LEGISLATION.

26. Power to make Laws.—(1) It shall be lawful for Us and Our successors, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislature, subject to the provisions of these Our Letters Patent, to make all Laws, to be entitled "Acts," which shall be required for the peace, order, and good government of the Colony (T. 36. (1) N. 5.):

(2) It shall also be lawful for the Governor in Council, subject to the like approval, to make regulations conferring on any such Council such powers of management in connection with local matters affecting the indigenous natives as can in his opinion be safely and satisfactorily undertaken by them, and by such regulations or by any subsequent regulations to make all such provisions as may be necessary in order to give effect to such powers.
